Letters to the Editor

Like Magic

I have a suggestion which, if implemented, would save the taxpayers untold millions of dollars. The idea came to me when, after extensive research, I discovered that at least two Senators knew that the Cuban missile bases were operational even before the missiles arrived in Cuba. The solution to our intelligence gathering problems, therefore, is almost painfully obvious. Dismantle the CIA and let Senators Keating and Capehart look into their crystal ball whenever we need information.

D. E. SILTMAN.
